

Back to Blue Research Statement

Our main reason for research is to find what the most common form of water pollution is, what companies, whether profit or nonprofit, help clean up the water and what demographic our target audience is going to be. We are also doing research to figure out what fish to use as the player, what shark to use and what the environment is going to be like in the game.